THRIFT WEEK STARTED IN YESTERDAY

Benjamin Franklin's Birthday Being Celebrated by a Week of Teaching and Practicing Thrift—Richmond Banks, Merchants and People Generally Will Observe It.

Yesterday, January 17, was Benjamin Franklin's birthday, and as he always preached and practiced thrift as one of the cardinal good doctrines of this life, the Young Men's Christian Association set the date of his birth for a national "Thrift Week," for the purpose of inculcating the goodly doctrine of thrift into as many lives as possible. It has been nationally accepted by the Bankers Association and many other national organizations have given it hearty endorsement.

The week will be celebrated here in Richmond on the part of most everybody and all will endeavor in one way or another to exercise a bit more thrift and be not so much a spendthrift. We notice a number of our business men are mentioning it in their advertisements, and all of them will advocate it this week, for the merchant does not want to see people be extravagant and more than any other sensible man or woman does. The three banks have something to say about it in their advertisements on this page, and the Big Store announces a discount of ten per cent on all purchases as its part. Briefly some of the purposes of Thrift Week are:

To educate a community on the important service financial institutions render. This is something concerning which a large number are ignorant.

To protect people from wild cat schemes and encourage them to invest in local enterprises.

To combat the American habit of extravagance by organizing savings.

MUCH IN LITTLE

Some live to great age without living very much. An old cat hasn't much luck imitating a kitten. A junk dealer makes a living on his wares. Love letters and political oratory both exaggerate. We'd all be anarchists at times, if a bomb were handy. No, patent medicines will not take the place of exercise. Oh, it we only knew as much as we did 25 years ago! A clam is all stomach and no brains. And there are others. It's nice to have an occasional day that is not a tag day. Too much devilment is excused on the ground of human nature. Advice is the only free thing we can think of just now.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT FILED YESTERDAY

Suit for $20,500 damages against Charles Kinkle, of Richmond, was filed in the Superior Court in Martinez Saturday by William H. Gibson on a charge of venue order issued from the San Francisco Superior Court. Damages are sought of Kinkle on charges that on September 21 last he attacked Gibson between Rodeo and Richmond without cause, knocking two of Gibson's teeth from his head, broke two others and ruptured his right ear drum, rendering him deaf in that ear. It is also alleged that Gibson has been unable to attend to his business.

Of the damages asked $20,000 is for injuries, $250 for doctor's fees and a similar amount for dentist's charges.

Plaintiff is represented by Wal J. Tuska of San Francisco and defendant by Pierce & Carlson of Richmond.

Dr. Cunningham has just returned home from Madera, where he was called to attend his sister, Mrs. Pitman. She had been dangerously ill with influenza and pneumonia, but is now recovering. Dr. Cunningham also states that there are 80 other cases of a similar nature there, but none of them are serious.

$200,000 FOR RICHMOND IN SIGHT

Congressman Curry Says Appropriation Will Be Made and Be Available as Soon as Richmond Is Ready to Contribute an Equal Sum For Local Harbor Improvement.

Harry Hammond, editor of the Byron Times, in receipt of a letter from Congressman Chas. F. Curry of this congressional district, in which he assures that the present congress is to include in its rivers and harbors bill $200,000 for Richmond, conditioned upon Richmond meeting the appropriation fifty-fifty, for the improvement further of our inner harbor and channel, the work to be done and the entire amount expended by the government.

Now, here we are again. Same proposition as before. Is Richmond going to be foolish enough to turn down such a splendid proposition when it comes up for a vote again next spring? Let us all hope and pray not.

Take the matter home to you. If you had a house in course of construction, upon which you had expended an immense amount of money, and ran out of funds, what would you do? Let it go to rack and ruin, in the elements, or go to the bank and borrow some money to finish it? And then suppose some

HAPPENINGS IN S. F. FIRST DAY OF PROHIBITION

National prohibition became effective yesterday, and the San Francisco district is as dry as the Mojave desert, according to Federal enforcement officers. The features of the first day of prohibition were:

- An arrest for selling liquor fifteen minutes after law became effective.
- Making of test case on the transportation of liquor from a saloon or warehouse to a private residence.
- Taking inventory of 1,300,000 gallons of distilled liquor in bonded warehouses.
- Taking stock of all stamped liquor in private warehouses.
- Closing of several saloons and cafes by proprietors, who fear to violate new law.
- Internal Revenue Department began to turn over liquor division to prohibition enforcement officers.

RICHMOND CLUB BANQUET LAST NIGHT

The Richmond Club ladies gave an entertainment last night to their husbands and children at the club house, which was greatly enjoyed by 75 persons, big and little, who were present, and lasted until a late hour.

There was music and dancing, whilst and a splendid banquet, such as the club ladies are famous for preparing, and Mr. Husband sure did justice to those good eats. There were appropriate prizes given at the whist games, the winners of same being H. A. Stiver, Mrs. W. W. Faber, Judge C. Odell and Mrs. R. L. Stout.

CO. GRAND JURY EMULATES THE CRAB

Advocates Reduction of Justice Courts From Seventeen To Five and Same Reduction in Constables, In Face of the Fact That County Is Growing In Leaps and Bounds.

"That was a strange report Contra Costa's Grand Jury handed in to Judge Lester last week," remarks the Byron Times truthfully, and then goes on to say: "The Martinez Gazette says it was signed by twelve of the Jurymen. Among the list are noted five women. The foreman of the jury was A. C. Gehring of Concord. Not a representative of any district in Eastern Contra Costa is in the list."

"The report proposes the reduction of the seventeen township justices' courts to five, one for each Supervisorial district, and recommends the same action be taken regarding the Constables."

"These five Justices and Constables would quite naturally desire to reside in the largest town in their respective districts, which would be Richmond, Crockett, Martinez, Pittsburg and Antioch."

"The immediate territory surrounding these five cities embraces about one-fourth of the area of the county."

JESSE JAMES IS EMULATED LAST NIGHT

As Express Train on S. P. Approaches Richmond Lone Highwayman Backs Mail Clerks Into Corner, Grabs Money Pouches, Pulls Cord, Jumps Off Train and Disappears.

At 10 o'clock last night as express train No. 10 on the Southern Pacific had left the Stages station going north and was about to get into Richmond a masked bandit crawled out from under the mail bags and packages where he had been hidden since the train left the Oakland mole at 9:18, and covering the four mail clerks in the car with a gun backed them to the end of the car and then helped himself coolly and with no hurry to such money pouches and registered mail as he wanted, getting it is thought by the mail clerks, four pouches and a number of packages, presumably containing money.

The man was young in appearance, about six feet tall and wearing blue bib overalls and his face was partially covered by a blue bandana handkerchief mask.

He informed the clerk clerks that he had been in the trenches and was only relieving Uncle Sam of what was coming to him, and that if they did not butt in he would not molest them; but if they did he would shoot their hands off. They took his word for it and did not interfere.

After securing the valuable pouches and packages he pulled the bell rope and went quickly out the door at the other end of the car from where the clerk were, jumped off when the train slowed down, and disappeared in the darkness of the night.

The conductor and others of the train crew hastened forward to ascertain the reason for the stop signal and upon learning what had happened (Continued on Page Four)

EASTERN STAR LADIES JOURNEY TO CROCKETT

A big delegation of Eastern Star ladies journeyed to Crockett last evening, to attend a big doings there of the Crockett Chapter of that order.

Mrs. Elizabeth Burdon of Richmond was installed there as Worthy Matron of the Crockett lodge, where she had long been a citizen and went through all the other official chairs prior to moving with her husband to this city.

The ladies enjoyed the occasion hugely, although it was half past one o'clock this morning before they got home. After the installation and other lodge work a splendid banquet was spread and a social time greatly enjoyed, with appropriate short speeches, music and other entertainment.

LOCAL MUSIC

Music composed by Richmond people will be a feature of the next meeting of the Arts club. The program is now being arranged by Percival Neal, chairman of the music section.

Words of the songs have been composed by members of the Arts club, and will also be sung by members. This will bring about the co-relation of the Arts, for which the club is aiming.

GRAVE CHARGES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Rear Admiral Sims told the Senate committee investigating naval awards today that when he was ordered to England in March, 1917, just before the United States entered the war, he was instructed by the Navy Department "not to let the British pull the wool over your eyes," and that "we would just as soon fight the British as the Central Powers."

The admiral also charged that American Naval Headquarters in London did not make co-operation from the Navy Department and that the department did not arrive at any decided plan of action until ten months after he arrived in London.

He added that "it was ten months before we really came to the aid of the allies or acted on their recommendations."

Admiral Sims' testimony was in the form of a letter to Secretary Daniels, entitled, "Some Naval Lessons of the Great War," which Daniels received several days ago.

NEW YORK'S TONGUE OUT

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Five hundred cases of confiscated whisky, piled on the sidewalks in front of the Custom-house and under guard, helped convince New Yorkers today that there was an official determination to enforce prohibition.

The whisky had been taken from bonded warehouses for export prior to the time the amendment became effective, and its seizure began soon after midnight. Twelve warrants were issued for arrests in connection with the seizures.

A $2,000,000 cargo of whisky, gin and champagne left port today for Havana.

THE PAPER OF THE WORKING PEOPLE

SUNDAY MORNING CHATS

After a fellow works like a human dynamo or steam pile-driver, fourteen hours and over each day, putting in about two-thirds of both day and night, and it comes around to Sunday morning, (not by the daylight but by the calendar and clock), he is about all in except his shoe-strings, and does not feel much like having a Sunday morning chat with anybody, and especially the kind of chat which should be of a Sunday brand. The good book admonishes us to love our neighbor as ourself, meaning by that, presumably, all of our fellow men, but after one has wrestled with him strenuously all week long, day and night, trying to prevent him from getting a stranglehold and getting away with the last two bits, one may have on hand, one feels more like slugging the cuss under the left ear with a blackjack than loving him. It would be a whole lot easier to live up to that divine admonition if he would only try to make himself more lovable. And that is what I keep chatting with him about, not only Sunday morning, but every morning, but it don't seem to do much good. He is too busy trying to get hold of somebody else's dollar to think anything about love, other than that bestowed upon the fair sex or himself. Well, anyhow, I am glad he can get by all right by working only eight hours, even if I do have to put in fourteen, and I hope he never has to put in the four-teen.

Under the law this is now a bone-dry nation, and some people act like they would have rather died and gone straight to hell than to have had anything like this occur. One would think to hear them rant and rave that it had been their bread and meat which had been taken away, instead of alcohol, and that life was no longer worth living. It takes all kinds of people to make a world, including those who imagine they want or need alcohol in their systems. As far as I am concerned, I am a very thankful man this Sabbath morning, and I know that millions of wives and mothers, fathers and little children are also very thankful. It is not so much the craving for drink the average man feels, but he is so stubborn, he is not willing that the law shall tell him that he shall not have or do anything he might take a notion to do or have. He does not stop to consider that he has always lived under just such laws, because the laws prohibited him from having or doing things he did not desire, such as murder, burglary, morphine, cocaine, etc., but the minute it comes home to him personally he rises up on his hind legs and paws the air and tears his hair and lets out loud roars about his personal liberty being abridged, and all that sort of tommyrot—yet, maybe, he was not in the habit of taking a drink once a month.

Every sane, sober, thinking man knows right down deep in his own heart that this is the grandest step forward any nation on the earth ever took; and he knows that the good it will do is incalculable; and also that the evil done for lack of it in the past has been likewise incalculable. The overthrow of the Kaiser was a big stunt, but the overthrow of alcohol is a thousand times bigger. So, when you go to church today give thanks that it has been accomplished; and if you are too ornery to go to church, (like I am), give thanks anyhow.

SOMETHING WRONG WITH OUR SYSTEM

We all agree that this is the greatest and most wonderful country on earth anywhere. That we all know. We know that the wondrous crops we raise astonish as well as feed the world—corn, wheat, rye, oats, cattle on a million hills, sheep in a million valleys, great manufacturing industries, thousands of miles of railroads busy all the time transporting all this bountiful harvest to the markets of the world. Nothing like it was ever heard of in the history of the world; marvelous; astonishing; millions of people flocking to our shores from every foreign country, and we feed them all with no apparent effort. Does it not seem to you that with all this great plenty of crops of all kinds, millions of pounds of wool being made into woolen goods; millions of hides being made into shoes; millions of bushels of corn and wheat for bread; millions of cattle for beef; millions of sheep for mutton; millions of hogs for pork—is it not a fact that every industrious and frugal citizen of this great country should now be enjoying prosperity and plenty, with enough to support his family; feed, clothe and educate his children; a home of his own; and a nest egg laid by for a rainy day in case of sickness?

THINKOGRAPHS

Apparently, 1920 will be a year long to be remembered for the unprecedented activity of humanity's predatory instinct—the vulturous trait that impels one creature to eat another alive.

The Federal government claims to have saved $19,000,000 by exterminating predatory animals last year. It might have saved the consumers $19,000,000,000 if it had exterminated the most destructive of all predatory animals—the American profiteer.

Hereafter the government will require that an emetic be put in hair tonics, bay rum and "sich" so as to render them non-potable. If they get to putting emetics into the stuff the oldtimers will take a pound of shot as a chaser to hold it down.

With Mr. Wilson eliminated, the situation is about as uncertain in the democratic as in the republican party. Indeed, never was there such a large proportion of voters who if asked would give the reply that they really don't know with which party they are aligned.

They say that the French soldiers are hating the horde of Frenchmen who got rich out of the war? What right has anybody to get rich out of a war to save his country's existence? Why should the men who offered their lives devote the rest of their years to paying the profiteers who robbed the nation in the day of its peril?

Inside Facts
It's what's inside your battery that makes it live long or wear out quickly. Inferior insulation wears out before the plates are used. Insulation is necessary. Threading Rubber Insulation greatly postpones and almost always entirely eliminates the need of re-insulation; makes a battery last much longer under equal conditions, and reduces the liability to any other kind of repairs. It's the one biggest battery improvement in ten years—demonstrated now by four years of use. You can't afford not to know about it. For some day you'll need a new battery. ALL STARS VANGUISH MARTINEZ 40 TO 29

Victory crowned the debut of the All Richmond All-Stars when they met the crack team of the Martinez Redmen at the high school gym last night. The game ended 40 to 29. The Emporium girls disappointed the One Minute Girls' star team by failing to show up. There were several hundred fans present.

The All-Stars, led by Manager J. A. Miller, had an easy time with the Redmen and played rings around them; shooting baskets at will. It was a fast game and much enjoyed by the fans. A collection was taken up to offset the expense of the game.

From the showing made by the Stars some tough battles are in store for the crack teams of the State with whom games are being arranged. A return game has been arranged with Martinez.

Train Hold Up

happened pulled the train on into the Richmond station, barely half a mile, and reported at once by phone both to the local police department and the sheriff in Martinez what had happened, and then continued on their journey north and east.

From his general actions the mail clerks are of the opinion that the robber was a former railroad man, as his knowledge of what to do and all about it strongly indicated that.

Immediately the Richmond police force got on the job and up to an early hour this morning as this is written no trace whatever of the holdup has been found. He did not drop any of the pouches or registered packages, of which he carried quite a load, and how he got away with them all remains a mystery which the local police are endeavoring to solve.

The Sheriff's office and the Oakland police are now assisting in the search and scouring the country closely in every direction.

In Alameda county, Berkeley received 4 D. S. C. awards, Hayward 2; Oakland 7; Alameda 3 and San Leandro 1.

There was a total of 15 awards made to California men.

diction over one-fifth of the territory, and present salaries would quite naturally have to be increased in the case of the Constable to $150 to $200 a month.

"As at present constituted, Sheriff Voale can get in communication with his subordinates in any of the towns at a moment's notice, and escapes of wrongdoers could be prevented."

"When the service of a Constable is wanted, it is generally not desirable to wait an hour or two for him."

"Three-fourths of the county would be unprotected and a premium would be placed on crooks operating in the various districts."

"There isn't an argument in its favor. The safety of the people in the townships demands that no change be made."

"The mere suggestion is a reflection upon the country districts—an official word to the outside world that we are retrograding—going backward instead of forward."

"If the members of the Grand Jury had visited Eastern Contra Costa, and oreman Gehring has been fortunate in that respect, they would have noted thousands of acres under irrigation, and thousands more waiting their turn, with subdivisions of land everywhere, new settlers coming in, new homes being built, and prosperity reigning."
